

Orchid Yo-Yo's

Orchid Yo-Yo's consist of an orchid hook, nylon tie and a spring tensioned nylon reel, that the nylon tie retracts back into.

The use of these Orchid Yo-Yo's enables the grower to hook up spikes (as is normally done with elastic) without the labour intensive task of re-tensioning each individual elastic at regular intervals. The constant tension on the spike from the nylon hook back to the spring tensioned nylon reel saving time and labour costs for the grower.

There are Yo-Yo's available for both standard and mini cymbidiums. The stronger tension (yellow or red hook) and another available for just minis (white hook).

These have been tried and proved over many years in commercial orchid operations worldwide. Due to their robust construction and manufacture from high quality UV stable materials they last a number of years inside the greenhouse.
