

The substrate for healthy roots

Benefits of Growcoir®:

- lightweight.
- can be compressed into a variety of shapes.
- decomposes slowly due to its high lignin content and large particle size so can be reused for several crop cycles.
- uniform and consistent.
- excellent porosity and water holding capacity that can be adapted to your crop.
- natural & renewable resource easily disposed of without any environmental concerns.

Worried about salt levels?

High salt levels can be an issue with cheap coconut fibre-based substrates but this does not apply to Growcoir®.

The coir used in Growcoir® products has been carefully washed and dried multiple times to remove excess sodium before blending.

The result? An extremely safe and consistently high-quality product with low sodium and low EC.
